Objectives of the Seminar

The main objectives of the seminar were:

1. To create awareness about NAAC Vision 3.0 and its emphasis on excellence beyond minimum standards.
2. To familiarize faculty members and IQAC teams with the revised NAAC Cycle-3 framework and metrics.
3. To understand best practices, qualitative indicators (QIM), and quantitative metrics (QnM).
4. To guide institutions on documentation, data validation, and evidence-based reporting.
5. To strengthen institutional quality culture and continuous improvement mechanisms.
6. To provide strategic insights for effective NAAC preparation and sustainable quality enhancement.

Program Highlights

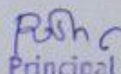

Dr. Narendra Chotalia delivered an in-depth and highly informative session covering:

- Concept and philosophy of NAAC Vision 3.0
- Key changes in Cycle-3 accreditation process
- Criterion-wise expectations and score optimization strategies
- Role of IQAC in quality sustenance and enhancement
- Importance of outcome-based education, student centric practices, and governance
- Common gaps observed during NAAC assessments and how to overcome them

The session was interactive, with active participation from faculty members, IQAC coordinators, and administrators. Queries related to documentation, SSR preparation, best practices, and DVV processes were effectively addressed. Totally 51 participants benefited with the knowledge and experience of Dr. Chotalia.

Outcomes of the Seminar

The seminar achieved the following outcomes:

1. Participants gained clear conceptual understanding of NAAC Vision 3.0 and Cycle-3 requirements.
2. Faculty members became aware of their individual and collective roles in quality assurance.
3. IQAC members received practical guidance on systematic documentation and evidence management.
4. The seminar strengthened institutional readiness for NAAC Cycle-3 accreditation.
5. Enhanced motivation among staff to adopt innovative teaching, research, and extension practices.
6. Promoted a culture of continuous quality improvement and accountability.
7. Fostered inter-institutional collaboration and sharing of best practices.

Conclusion

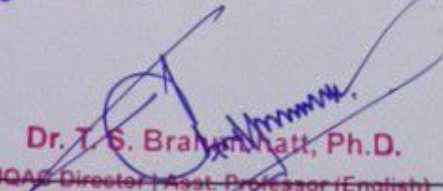

The seminar on NAAC Vision 3.0: Excellence Beyond Standards proved to be highly beneficial and timely. The expert guidance provided by Dr. Narendra Chotalia offered valuable clarity and strategic direction to all participants. The program significantly contributed towards strengthening the quality framework of the institution and reinforced the commitment of the college towards excellence in higher education.

The IQAC expresses sincere gratitude to the resource person, collaborating institutions, and all participants for making the program a great success.
