Beyond small molecules: why "advanced therapies" matter

The shift

We are moving from "chemistry-heavy" pipelines to platforms based on genes, cells and tissues.

What counts as advanced therapy?

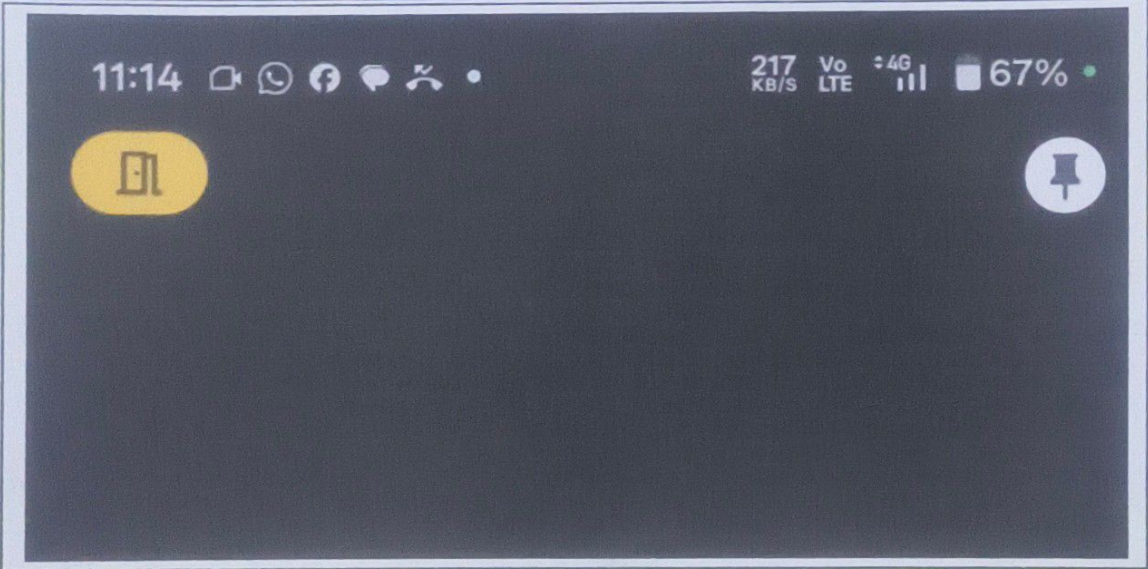

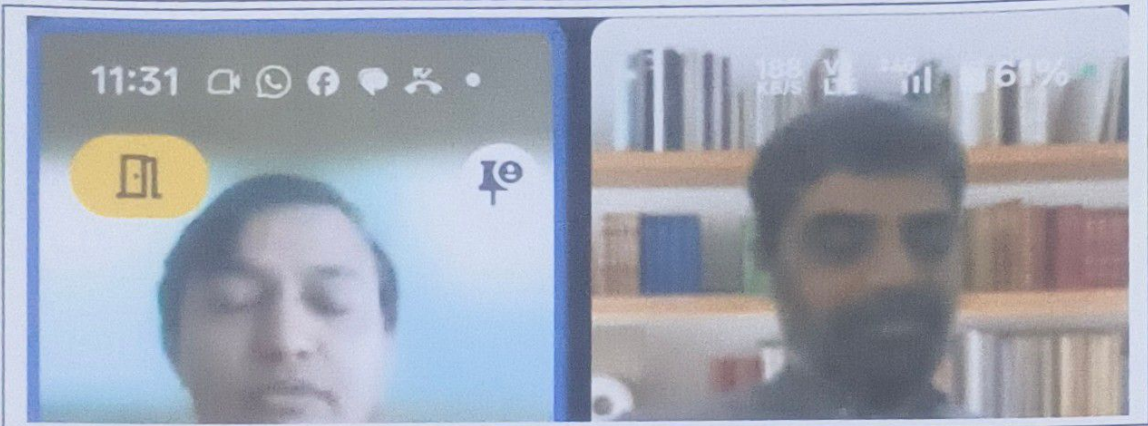

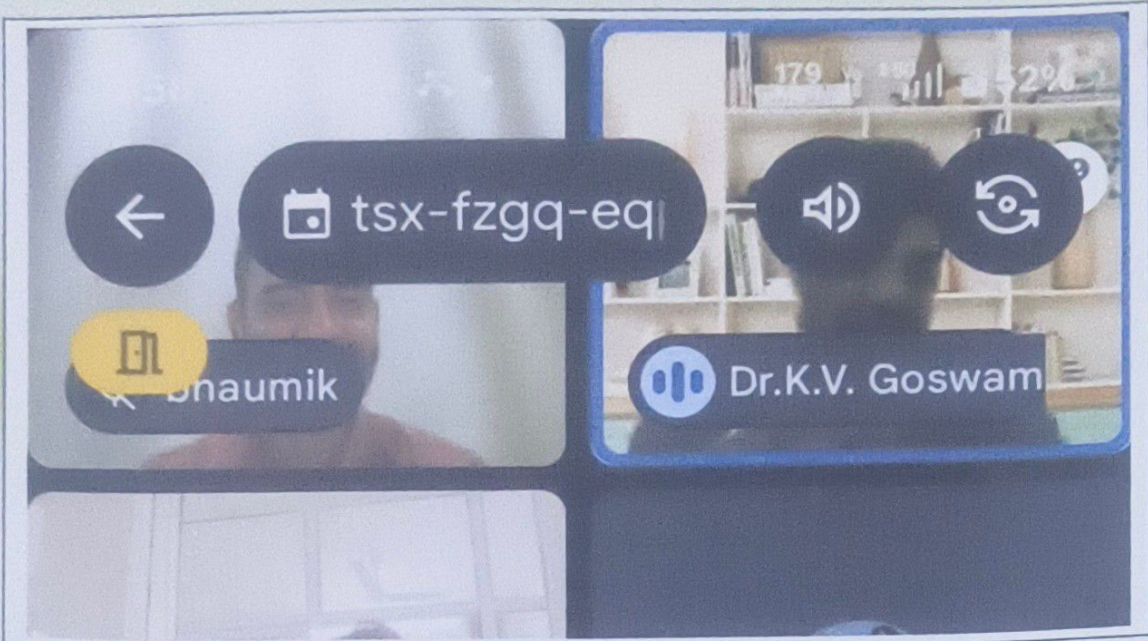

- ✓ Cell therapy (e.g., CAR-T / TCR, iPSC derived products)
- ✓ Gene therapy (e.g., viral vectors, gene editing)
- ✓ Tissue engineering (cells + scaffolds/decimals)
- ✓ Often personalized → new roles in QCMQA, supply chain and compliance

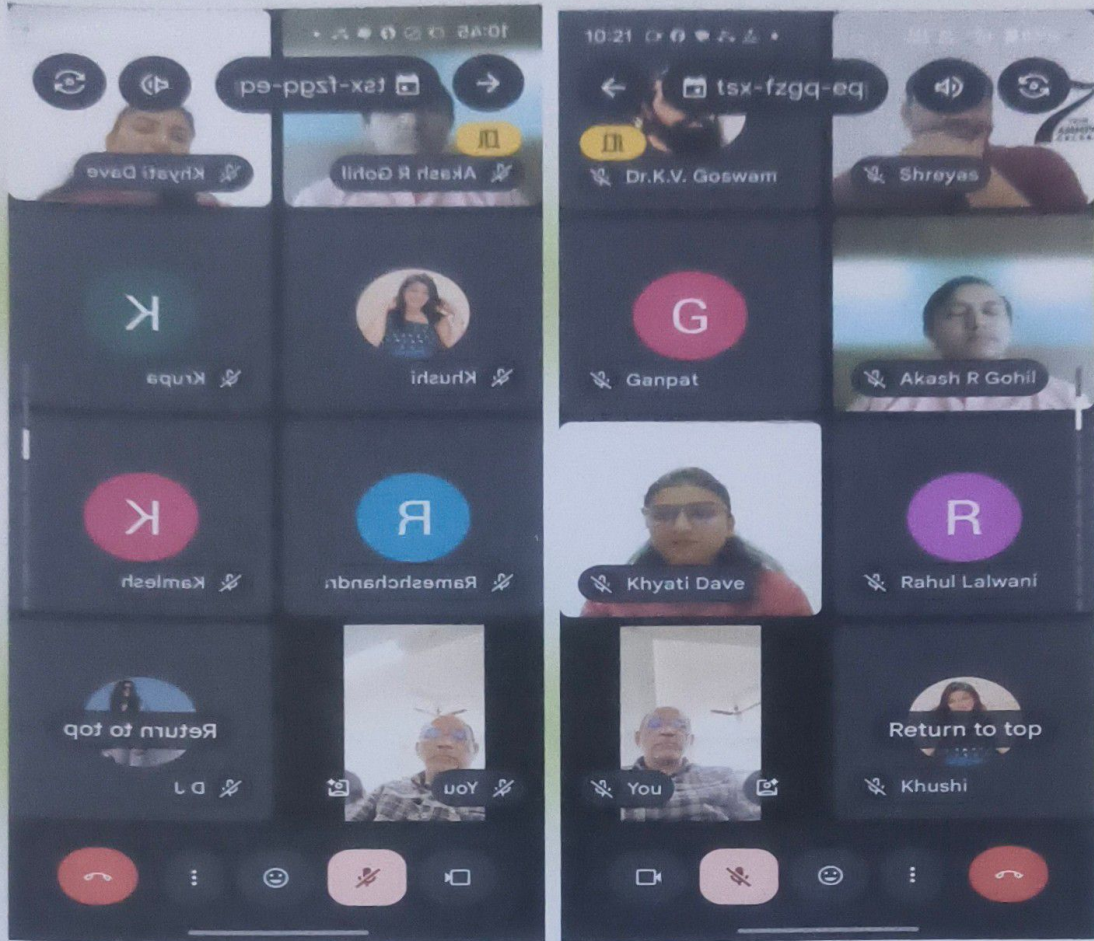

Small molecules (classic)

- ✓ Well-defined (monoclonal)
- ✓ Stable supply chain
- ✓ Mature analytical pipeline

Advanced therapies (emerging)

- ✓ Manufacturing variability (batch-to-batch)
- ✓ Potency & identity assays (in control)
- ✓ Status of toxicity & combi chain becomes critical
